You may want to forward the following to our folks in NJ. Any additional support they can muster to get retailers to the meetings would be appreciated.

Marlton, NJ--Elizabeth Gallagher has alerted us to a hearing on 10/21 where the city council will discuss an ordinance to ban the self-service display of tobacco products. She requests letters and calls to retailers and calls to council members starting as soon as possible.

Vineland, NJ--Elizabeth also brings news that tonight the city council will likely present a compromise which will allow displays on top of the sales counter, not just behind the counter as in the original ordinance. This is the only compromise possible despite the appearance of 15 retailers at the first hearing and lots of calls to council members.
